302 SOUTH STREET

Meet Jacob and Sean, two entrepreneurs who became friends at age 13. It would seem that their interests were disparate; one a business man to be, the other a born chef. Being buddies from day one might foreshadow something great, but who would know what it might become. Then there was an opportunity: a vacant landmark. The two jumped to action, conspiring to what would become this place. Two men, friends at first, who were not afraid to work hard or sacrifice for this place, 302 South Street.
